ROMANCE IS DEAD.

Bryan Sends Envoy to Son-in-Law.

Commoner Backs Daughter in Her Suit Against Her Husband.

Hopes to Be Able to Reach a Settlement of the Difficulty.

Mrs. Leavitt Will Soon Begin Action for Absolute Divorce.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LINCOLN (Neb.) Nov. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) An emissary of William J. Bryan now is on his way to France—he may be there by this time—for the purpose of seeing Mr. Bryan's son-in-law in regard to the divorce suit about to be brought by Ruth Bryan Leavitt. His object, it is said, is to agree upon a settlement. Mrs. William Horner Leavitt, who is still a girl in experience and years, has established a residence in Colorado for the purpose, it is understood, of bringing a divorce suit under the liberal laws of that State. It is not merely paper residence. Mrs. Leavitt spends probably two-thirds of her time in the State, the remainder being spent with her parents at Lincoln, Neb.

In Colorado, which is a State where women vote, Mrs. Leavitt is prominent. She is president of the principal women's Democratic club in Denver and her brilliant and wit make her a prominent figure among the brightest women of that State, though she never has given the least countenance to anything of the "suffragette" order.

ROMANCE ENDS.
The divorce suit which she is about to bring marks the end of one of the most interesting "romances" of modern American life. "Romance" in this sense meaning a marriage in which the girl defies the wishes of her parents. Ruth Bryan was a self-willed, beautiful, brilliant and foolish girl of 17. An artist named Leavitt came to Lincoln, painted her father's portrait, and she was twice his age, but good-looking, clever and with a snap-dash with him that fascinated the imagination of the schoolgirl and she announced her determination to marry him.

Mr. Bryan warned his daughter against the marriage and did all he could to prevent it. So did Mrs. Bryan, but Ruth was too self-willed to permit interloper. She had to wait for her eighteenth birthday, but she was under her mother's legal control of her up to that time. But on that birthday she was married.

Mrs. Bryan absented herself from the wedding, though every guest was on the face the grief it cost him. Then ill-starred married life began.

Leavitt had no money, but that defect the Bryans might have remedied but for the irreconcilable defects of his temperament. He had the curse of the Bohemian idea. He dragged his young wife through the Denver hash-house when he could as well have dined her at good hotels.

At last Mrs. Leavitt's eyes were opened and she left him. A year ago J. Bryan found that his two grandchildren, Bryan and Ruth, were living in squalor in Denver. He went there and rescued them and their mother. The outcome was the Colorado residence and suit for divorce.

TRYING TO BUY CARDINALS.
ROME, Nov. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) It is reported in well-informed Vatican circles that a group of New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco millionaires, through Mr. Kennedy, head of the American College, offered to make a contribution of $1,000,000 in Peter's Pence if two American cardinals were created at the coming consistory.

NEW CASES OF CHOLERA.

Plague Breaks Out Afresh in St. Petersburg—Rich Are Attacked.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—

Asiatic cholera, which since its prevalence here three months ago, had been thought to have been extirpated, has now broken out afresh.

In the past twenty-four hours there were seventy-two cases in this city. The new cases are mostly in well-to-do families and they show all the virulence of the early days of the epidemic.

EDNA CLARK FLEES AGAIN.

SHE IS NOW WITH RELATIVES IN TOLEDO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

Driven Desperate by Persecution of Stage Managers, Reporters and Magazine Editors, California Girl Fleeing Chicago—Ambition Now to Study Art in Boston.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
TOLEDO, Nov. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Edna Clark, the nineteen-year-old California girl for whom the police of the country searched for three weeks until she was found in Chicago, is now in this city. She seeks refuge with relatives here from the persecutions of reporters, stage managers, magazine feature-seekers, etc., in Chicago.

Miss Clark ran away from home in Alameda, Cal., because of religious differences with her family. She was finally located on State street, Chicago. At first she refused to accompany her cousin, F. H. Clark, to Toledo, as she had found employment, but she was beset by mill and by callers to capitalize the notoriety her disappearance had caused here and came to Toledo to escape.

"The story that I left home because of a love affair with a minister is ridiculous," said Miss Clark today. "I never had a love affair in my life; my only love is for art, and I hope to be able to go to Boston now that I am so near and finish my education."

"I couldn't stand it any longer in Chicago. People kept writing me letters, and I was tired of being in the papers or write for magazines or to star in vaudeville sketches or to do a thousand other things I did not want to do until my life was almost unbearable."

Miss Clark says her stay here will be indefinite.

AMERICAN MINISTER RESIGNS.

John G. Coolidge, Representative of Uncle Sam to Nicaragua, Quits Diplomatic Service.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Wednesday, Nov. 25.—John Gardner Coolidge, the American Minister to Nicaragua, tendered his resignation. It is reported here that Mr. Coolidge took this step because of disapproval of his government of this meddling with the internal affairs of Nicaragua.

Mr. Coolidge is also resigning from the diplomatic service. The archives of the legation have been placed in the hands of John H. Gregory, Jr., the secretary of the legation.

SURPRISE TO WASHINGTON.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—That an impression should have obtained that the resignation of John Gardner Coolidge, the American Minister to Nicaragua, was the result of disapproval of his government of this meddling with the internal affairs of Nicaragua, caused much surprise at the State Department.

It is declared in the most authoritative way, that nothing Mr. Coolidge has done while in that country has met with official disapproval, except the tendering of his resignation, which has been accepted with regret for it is said at the department that he made an excellent official.

PROTECT THE PACIFIC.

United States and Japan Agree.

Declaration Also Guarantees Integrity of China by "Peaceful Means."

Principal Object, However, Is Commercial Development of Western Sea.

Important Diplomatic Instrument Pledges Safety of Possessions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Despite official reluctance, information from reliable sources has been obtained of an agreement of far-reaching importance between the United States and Japan covering the policies of the two countries on the Pacific.

The agreement is based on the idea of encouraging and defending free and peaceful commercial development on that ocean. It contains not only a mutual guarantee to respect each other's territorial possessions there, but defines the attitude of the two countries toward China, binding each to defend by every peaceful means China's independence and integrity, and to give equal commercial opportunity in the Chinese Empire to all nations.

More important still, the agreement, in the event of complications threatening the status quo, binds the United States and Japan to consult one another with a view to acting together. AS A DECLARATION.

This agreement has been drawn up in the form of a declaration, and consists of five articles, of which the following is a faithful description:

The first article gives expression to the wish of the two governments to encourage the free and peaceful development of the commerce and industry of the Pacific.

The second is a mutual disclaimer of aggressive design, and contains also a definition of the common interest of the two governments, both as directed to the maintenance of the existing status quo in the Pacific and the defense of the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry in China.

The third article contains a statement of the consequent firm reciprocal resolution of the two governments to respect the territorial possessions in the Pacific of the other.

INTEGRITY OF CHINA.
In the fourth article the United States and Japan express their determination "in the common interest of all the powers" to support "by all peaceful means at their disposal" the independence and integrity of China and the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry for all nations in the empire.

The fifth article mutually pledges the two governments in the case of the occurrence of any event threatening that status quo as above described, or the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry, to communicate with each other for the purpose of arriving at an understanding with regard to the measures it may be considered useful to take.

HUNDRED DIE IN SHIP WRECK.

COASTING STEAMER FOUNDERS OFF LUZON.

It Is Believed That All Her Crew and Passengers, Native Laborers Going to the Rice Fields, Were Drowned When Steamer Struck Sunken Reef Near Manila.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
MANILA, Nov. 28.—The coasting steamer Ponting, carrying a large number of laborers from Narayan to the rice fields in Pangasinan province, struck a reef and sank last night during a storm off San Fernando, in Union Province.

It is estimated that a hundred passengers and crew of the Ponting were drowned. The steamer Vigaya rescued fifty-five.

A patrol of the Constabulary established after the accident, picked up fifteen bodies and many others are coming ashore. It is not known whether any Americans or Europeans were aboard the wrecked steamer.

WHITE HOUSE FIGHT ON CANNON UNPOLITIC.

President's Decision Against Organizing Opposition to Speaker Leaves Ranks of "Uncle Joe's" Enemies Still Thinner.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Opposition to the reelection of Joseph G. Cannon as Speaker of the House is gradually falling away. Although some of the more rabid anti-Cannon men still maintain that there is to be a fight against "Uncle Joe," their ranks are daily growing thinner.

It is reported tonight that President Roosevelt has practically decided that a fight on Cannon would not only be useless, but would also be exceedingly impolitic. The chances of victory against the friends of the Speaker are so slight that the White House, it is declared, has practically decided to abandon the fight, and content itself with entering its opposition on the Speaker's rules of the House.

It is even asserted that President Roosevelt deemed the Burton-Taft situation, and said so. He, even more than the President-elect, seemed to fear that a defeat would do great damage to Taft's chances for a successful administration.

FLIES FOR SECRECY.

Woman Gone With State Paper.

Governor Is Hunting Miss Kate Barnard High and Low.

Oklahoma Commissioner of Charities Takes Off Her Own Report.

Explosive Document Contains Grave Charges Against Jail Officials.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
FORT WORTH (Tex.) Nov. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma is searching for Miss Kate Barnard, Commissioner of Charities and Corrections of Oklahoma. It is believed he desires to get from her her report on the conditions which she found in the State penitentiary of Kansas at Lansing. In this report, it is asserted, Miss Barnard makes some startling charges against the authorities of the prison and asserts that the prisoners are barbarously treated.

Miss Barnard, to prevent her report from receiving any blue penciling, will not return to Oklahoma until December 1, when she will submit it to the Legislature.

Thursday night she left the home of Mrs. W. G. Burton of Arlington Heights, Fort Worth's suburb, keeping her present whereabouts secret. Miss Barnard recently stumped Indiana and Illinois for the Democracy. She collapsed completely in Oklahoma, retiring from politics forever, she announced.

It is claimed that Gov. Haskell is seeking her in order to obtain a copy of her annual report which is to be submitted to Oklahoma's Legislature December 1, concerning the conditions at Oklahoma penitentiaries at present confined in the Kansas penitentiary at Lansing, as well as the system of control and discipline now in vogue in that institution.

SCORES SYSTEM.
That this report is an indictment of the entire prison system of Kansas and brings charges against high officials of that State, is shown by a perusal of this document, which has until yesterday been kept carefully hidden. Miss Barnard's visit to Lansing was made last August, and shortly after her return she made a report of the conditions which she found existing there to Gov. Haskell.

Gova. Hoch of Kansas and Haskell conferred at Topeka shortly after, when they are said to have exchanged warm words.

It is thought the reason Haskell has said nothing publicly is because the political campaign was then on, although Miss Barnard gave a short interview that caused a sensation. The Governor fears now that the report which Miss Barnard will send to the Legislature December 1 will cause the State of Kansas to institute a suit against Oklahoma to prevent the removal of the Oklahoma prisoners to the stockade at McAlester, Okla., before the expiration of the contract between the two States.

MISS BARNARD INSULTED.
In her report, Miss Barnard says that, notwithstanding her authority as a State official, Warden Haskell of Lansing, Mich., who, despite the similarity of the names is no relation to Gov. Haskell, insolently and with threats, refused, for several hours, to allow her to enter the institution. She, however, demanded to be shown to every part of it, including its notorious coal mines. Guards accompanied her all through the prison, and she was forbidden to speak to the prisoners except in their presence.

Conditions existing there, as described in her report, are appalling.

INHUMAN BRUTALITY.
It is claimed that Oklahoma convicts are fastened in coffins and water turned on them, filling the box completely. There are crabs where men are racked and drawn more brutally than in the Middle Ages.

Other forms of torture are apocryphal, where convicts are swung from the floor by their wrists, and left hanging for hours. There are loathsome dungeons. She alleges Kansas prisoners are shown preference in allotment of work, that Oklahoma convicts' sleeping quarters are vile. Their food, she claims, is of the poorest, and the convicts at times take their punishment by being beaten with gunstocks rather than eat.

Charles F. Helms, editorial writer of the Guthrie Leader, arrived here today, but declined to make any statement regarding his trip. It is believed he is on his way to secure a copy of Miss Barnard's report.

Chinese Government Decides to Crown Tiny Emperor Next Week to Relieve Anxiety.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
PEKING, Nov. 27.—The government has decided upon December 2 as the date for the coronation of Pao Yu, the son of the late Emperor. It has been understood that this ceremony was to be performed on New Year's day, when the era of the late Kuang Hsu expired.

fer With Him.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SOFIA (BULGARIA) Nov. 27.—Emperor Ferdinand will arrive in Sofia tomorrow from his castle at Ezerograd, near Varna, where he has been on vacation for three weeks. On Sunday he will receive a deputation bearing the reply of the National Assembly to his recent speech from the throne.

M. Liapchev, minister of commerce, will come to Sofia, December 1, ostensibly in connection with the duties of his office, the budget of which he must prepare. President of the Council M. Linoz says that M. Liapchev soon will return to Constantinople, and resume the negotiations looking to a settlement of the difficulties between Turkey and Bulgaria, which are proceeding smoothly, but very slowly.

What the attitude of Bulgaria will be in the event of hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Turkey is a question that is beginning to claim attention here. It has revived speculation concerning the existence of some sort of Austro-Bulgarian convention. Direct cooperation between Austria and Bulgaria would have to be repudiated, but Bulgaria would have to resist the temptation of a favorable moment for the invasion of Macedonia unless Turkey had given previous guarantees of her intention to grant equal civil and political rights to the Bulgarian population at Macedonia.

Advice received from Macedonia indicates that Greek bands there have resumed activity and murdered several Bulgarian priests, school masters. A dispatch from Adrianople says that Turkish troops pillaged the Bulgarian village of Derkebey, shot several of the inhabitants and attacked the women.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 27.—According to the Yeni Gazete, Van Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, in a recent conversation told the Turkish chargé d'affaires that Austria had done everything possible, but fruitlessly, to secure a conciliatory settlement of the difficulties. Austria wished to be friendly with Turkey, he added, but could also be her enemy.

Baron Von Aehrenthal said that the request of Count Palavicini, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to Turkey, for leave of absence would be granted when it was seen that the negotiations were certain to fail.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Yeni Gazete is regarded as the Turkish Grand Vizier's organ, and its statement appears to confirm the reports that a grave crisis exists between Austria and Turkey.

Rejection to Be Made Basis of Campaign for Curtailing Power of Peers.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The House of Lords created an interesting political situation this evening by rejecting the Licensing bill by a vote of 275 against 16.

The Liberals are likely to make this action a rallying cry in their campaign for curtailment of the power of the House of Lords, claiming that the peers have defeated the will of the people.

STORM KEEPS SAILORS ASHORE.

Manila Bay Exceedingly Rough and Officers Are Unable to Attend Festivities.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

MANILA, Nov. 27.—The storm last night kept the liberty men from the Atlantic fleet ashore all night. The waters of the bay were exceedingly rough, and Rear-Admiral Sperry sent a wireless message ashore to the effect that they should not attempt to return to their ships until weather conditions were more favorable, and directed them to go to the harbor of the local Y.M.C.A. and the Knights of Columbus, where provision was made to take care of them. All of the stranded sailors were taken to the respective ships at 7 o'clock this morning in three large coast-guard vessels.

The storm kept a majority of the officers of the fleet from attending the reception given by Governor-General Smith, it being too rough for the launches to make the passage from the ships to the shore. About a dozen officers, however, did attend the storm broke, attended today by a military band, and included a basketball game, and free theatrical performances, and concluded with a reception to the officers by the Army and Navy Club tonight.

CONSPIRATORS SENTENCED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—William L. Tilden and Chauncey L. Graham, officials of the American Real Estate Company, were sentenced today by Judge Cretin, in the Superior Court, to serve a term of one to twenty years in the penitentiary on charges of conspiracy. The arrest and conviction of Tilden and Graham was a sequel to the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, a few years ago, the two men being found guilty of having promoted the steel ball company by means of fictitious notes of the bank, amounting to nearly $175,000. Justice Carter, in the Supreme Court, later allowed a writ of error and issued a writ of superpetendo bringing the case before the upper court. The defendants were released on bonds of $25,000.

The Russian government alleges that Rudowicz is wanted for murder, while the latter's defense, presented by United States Commissioner Poole, is that the murder charge is a pretext to get him back to Russia to be tried for

ACTRESS SEEKS DEATH
IN HOTEL ST. REGIS.Talented Player and Playwright Shoots Herself in Temple After Warning Her Friends by Letter.
Used Pillow as Muffler.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Using a pillow to muffle the report of a revolver, Mrs. Eleanor Merron Cowper, a talented playwright and actress, shot herself in the right temple today in her apartment in the Hotel St. Regis. The explosion of the cartridge was not heard. Mrs. Cowper is slowly dying.

Before making the attempt at self-destruction, Mrs. Cowper had written a number of letters, one to her lawyer, another to the coroner, a third to an undertaker and a fourth to John Hood, a friend. In the letters she apprised the four persons of her intention to commit suicide.

At about the moment when Mrs. Cowper pressed her finger to the trigger, the letter addressed to John Hood was being delivered.

Mr. Hood read the first few lines, grabbed his coat and hat and ran to the St. Regis. The clerk secured a key and hurried to the room of Mrs. Cowper, accompanied by Mr. Hood and a maid. They found Mrs. Cowper lying in bed with the pillow still over her head and a revolver clutched in her hand. The bed clothing was stained crimson.

Investigation showed that Mrs. Cowper had made careful preparations to end her life. In addition to writing the letters and to take charge of her death, and at the age of 30 months came to this country. Her maiden name was Eleanor Merron.

Her stage career began in Boston in a production called "Youth."

Mrs. Cowper gave a list of the various productions she had appeared in. She wrote four plays, which were produced on Broadway. They were the "Daily Farm," "In Love," "A Broadway Favorite" and "A Last Rehearsal."

Mrs. Cowper did not give the date of her marriage, referring briefly to that fact that her husband, Archibald Cowper, was an actor, and that he died three years ago. Virtually her only home life was when she lived on the farm of James H. Wallack at Middletown, N. Y.

Mr. Wallack, who was 66 years old, collaborated with her in a number of the plays she wrote. Mr. Wallack committed suicide last April, and his tragic death seemed to have made a deep impression upon Mrs. Cowper. He shot himself in the right temple. Mrs. Cowper tried to kill herself in identically the same manner today.

The police endeavored to get into the room, but were refused admittance by Royce of Middletown, and learned that he was on his way to New York, having received a letter from Mrs. Cowper saying that she intended to kill herself. He arrived at the hotel to find the police in charge of the dying woman.

The police said that Mrs. Cowper was a prisoner, but she was not removed from her apartments at the hotel, as the doctors said that she had small chance to live, and to take her to a hospital probably would hasten the end.

OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN
ART UP TO PRESIDENT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the closing official acts of President Roosevelt may be the settlement of the four-cornered dispute between the United States government, the State of Pennsylvania, the State of West Virginia and Beaver county, Pa.

George C. Ohio, who is the troublemaker and pictured rocks the cause. At present, Prof. George is sitting on the job with shotgun in hand and a look of defiance in his eye.

The fuss all started because Chief Beaver and a tribe of Minogees were driven down the Ohio by the rocks and they coveted the lands the former possessed.

Sad in heart, Chief Beaver had his artists at work and in a few days they cut in the solid rock of what is the present Ohio River bed, the story of the sad trip from the country where the river had lived so many years. Later, the river changed its bed until the picture rocks were entirely at the bottom of the stream. Fifty years ago they were visible for a few moments only, but during the last few months, when the river has been lower than ever before, the rocks had completely disappeared. One morning recently, it was discovered that the rocks had disappeared. The trail led in the direction of Geneva College.

Prof. George was accused of having taken the pictures he laughingly admitted he had, stating he employed a score of men to climb on the rocks and that they were in the cellar of the college, where he would sit up on them all day and all night, if necessary, to protect them.

RAILWAY RECORD.

CARS SHORT; RATES HIGHER.

Situation Soon as Predicted by Commission.

Business Recovery Signal for Boosting Tariffs.

Advance Has Begun in the Southeast Section.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As an indication of the business panic of last year the railroads of the country have permitted their equipment to get into bad shape and, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission, there will be a big shortage in cars, locomotives and general rolling stock as soon as the revival of industries is a little further advanced. The same officials say that the roads propose to take advantage by making sweeping advances in their rates.

"I have no doubt," said one of the commissioners in explaining the situation, "that an attempt will be made all along the line to push up rates in every possible way. The railroads have contrived the impression that they are not receiving sufficient money to maintain their efficiency and to give good service and pay their stockholders anything."

"As soon as business revives the railroads all over the country are going to find themselves in a position to demand for two years they have bought no rolling stock to speak of, and they have not kept their old equipment in repair."

"The railroad managers will soon begin announcing that they must get more money to lay tracks and buy cars, and that to advance rates is the only means of getting the needed cash. Whether they will be permitted to enforce their higher rates is something the commission cannot pass upon now."

"Already, the advances have begun. The commission has before it one case which involves an advance in rates in all the Southeast. There is another case which involves advances in the Southwest."

SELL CHURCH TERMINAL.

Unknown Purchaser Found to Take Over Stacks—It May Be Hill or Harriman.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is believed that the affairs of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Road are in a fair way to a final settlement. A purchaser has been found who is willing to take over the property and pay $20 a share for the preferred stock, and it is evident that the protective committee appointed by the preferred stockholders when the road first began, thinks this is a fair offer, and is prepared to recommend its acceptance.

The identity of the purchaser is not made known by the protective committee in announcing the offer, and there is much speculation as to whether it is Hill or Harriman.

PROBING TERMINUS.

COMMISSIONERS BURY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Interstate Commerce Commission is making an exhaustive investigation into the business affairs of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Road, with a view to ascertaining whether or not that body has jurisdiction over the roads.

This fact was disclosed today by a visit, made by Commissioner Harlan, who held a session of the commission here and took testimony regarding the business methods of the Chicago Junction Railway and the Union Stockyards Company. These two companies have challenged the right of the commission to inquire into their affairs, claiming that their business and their tracks lie wholly within the State of Illinois.

GROSS EARNINGS.

ALL RECEIPTS INCLUDED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

ST. PAUL, Nov. 27.—In a decision of the suit brought by the State against the Minnesota and International Railroad to get an adequate definition of the term "gross earnings," the State Supreme Court today says:

"The gross earnings, which form the basis of the 2 per cent. tax under the provision of the special laws of 1912, is not limited to earnings derived from the operation of trains, but includes all earnings by such railway company while performing any service, or connected with the business of transportation, and which may reasonably be computed within the scope of their corporate powers."

MANCHESTER (N. H.), Nov. 27.—The organization of a "popular bank," patterned after institutions which have proved successful in Canada, but are said to have been untried in this country, has been undertaken by members of St. Mary's Church parish in this city.

The bank offers features of both savings and cooperative organizations. Depositors may borrow to the extent

AIRY TROUBLES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] France wants Germany to stop muzzling up reduced territory with her balloons. According to a morning newspaper, the government has become alarmed at the increasing number of air craft, manned by German army officers, which have been descending in France recently, and will insist that the Kaiser stop spilling his military on this side of the frontier.

The newspaper declares that diplomatic representations have been made to Berlin on the subject, that so far they have been in vain and the government now is considering the question of taking vigorous steps to stop what is termed as "veritable peril."

This year's crop of balloons exceeds anything in history. Hardly a day passes without the report of the Kaiser's German army officer on French territory. In the past the government wouldn't have worried much about it, but since the dangers of ballooning have been reduced to a minimum and the prospects of reducing the Kaiser's standing—or circulating—army, by this method, have decreased in proportion, the government has decided that the French territory is to be plowed up by balloon armies, France herself will supply the balloons.

"It is getting so you can't shake a tree in France without dislodging a German army officer," said an official. "You can hardly glance up to see what the weather looks like without getting a dose of Berlin ballast in your eyes."

It used to be that a German army officer who wished to cross the frontier required passports. Now all he needs is a balloon.

Many of them say in the course of time, if the supply of balloons and the prospects of reducing the Kaiser's army have a bigger fighting force on this side of the line than he has in Germany.

NEMESIS' ARREST ENDS HER CHASE.

AGED MISSOURI CAPITALIST IS HOUNDED BY WOMAN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.), Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A 45-year-old capitalist, aged 70, residing in De Soto, an extensive realty dealer and representing property houses, with a business office in St. Louis, caused the arrest today of "Mrs. Evelyn M. Trout," aged 45, on a bench warrant, charging that she committed perjury in her divorce suit, recently filed here, claiming she was lawfully married to Weeks. A large warrant charges her with matching $13 out of his hand in a department store here and keeping it.

Weeks to the Circuit Attorney stated his acquaintance with the woman began in 1888, when he was assistant manager of a big business house in New York. He was introduced to her in his office by the company's manager, and took her to luncheon and afterward made frequent trips to Coney Island and other resorts with her. When his wife and daughter returned from Europe, Mrs. Trout threatened to tell his wife if he broke off relations with her. Then he fled to Chicago, and when Mrs. Trout made threatening demands for money he fled with his family to St. Louis, only to be hounded there by his nemesis, so that again he fled to De Soto, Mo., where she appeared, disguised at a hotel as his wife, and sued him for $20,000, compensating for $20. There his daughter died before learning of his disgrace.

Mrs. Trout, who is worth $200,000, said Weeks is worth $100,000. She says he married her fourteen years ago and she has another wife.

MOTOR BOAT RACE FOR LIFE.

Hunters Blown Off Shore by Wind Are Rescued by Life Savers After Fight.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A sweep by a fierce gale far out into the lake in an open boat, one car gone, and the small craft half-filled with water, Otto Wengle and Peter G. Meyer faced what seemed to them to be certain death for a time, yesterday. They were rescued by the life-saving crew, which sped eleven miles to their aid in a motor boat.

Both men were exhausted from their fight, and are in a serious condition at their homes as a result of the exposure. Wengle and Meyer started to hunt ducks along the shore. They had rowed only a short time when they were caught by the offshore wind and blown rapidly into the lake.

A woman on shore sighted the small boat buffeting about in the sea that night, and telephoned to the life-saving station. Capt. Charles Carland at once put to sea with his crew in a motor boat and at top speed they headed for the small shipwreck that was visible eleven miles away. They reached the little craft just in time for Wengle and Meyer to fall to the bottom of the boat and Meyer was almost on the point of giving up his bailing in despair.

On their return trip to the shore, the life-savers worked vigorously over the men to prevent their succumbing to the exposure they had suffered.

"As soon as business revives the railroads all over the country are going to find themselves in a position to demand for two years they have bought no rolling stock to speak of, and they have not kept their old equipment in repair."

"The railroad managers will soon begin announcing that they must get more money to lay tracks and buy cars, and that to advance rates is the only means of getting the needed cash. Whether they will be permitted to enforce their higher rates is something the commission cannot pass upon now."

"Already, the advances have begun. The commission has before it one case which involves an advance in rates in all the Southeast. There is another case which involves advances in the Southwest."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As an indication of the business panic of last year the railroads of the country have permitted their equipment to get into bad shape and, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission, there will be a big shortage in cars, locomotives and general rolling stock as soon as the revival of industries is a little further advanced. The same officials say that the roads propose to take advantage by making sweeping advances in their rates.

"I have no doubt," said one of the commissioners in explaining the situation, "that an attempt will be made all along the line to push up rates in every possible way. The railroads have contrived the impression that they are not receiving sufficient money to maintain their efficiency and to give good service and pay their stockholders anything."

EASY COALING AT SAN DIEGO.

Navy Bureau Recommends More Modern Machinery at Station.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chief of the Bureau of Equipment of the Navy, in his annual report, says coaling stations at San Diego and California City Point should be developed into stations of large storage capacity and equipped with more modern machinery for efficient, economical and expeditious handling of coal.

Plans are nearly completed for a large elevated storage shed at California City Point, to cost about $125,000, hold 30,000 tons and be capable of rapidly filling coal barges by gravity. It is intended further to develop this station by adding another big coal shed. The water supply when the reservoir is filled, is 1,000,000 gallons.

Gentlemen: I have been a sufferer from hay fever for years and have tried hundreds of different remedies, employing high-priced nose and throat specialists, but did not obtain the slightest relief until I used your Nasal Douche and Throat Gargle. I have only used the gargle two weeks and yet I appear entirely cured of one of the most violent cases of hay fever imaginable, eyes bloodshot, severe pains in head and constant running of the nose.
I have written to several of my friends in the far East who have been afflicted with this terrible disease, and shall continue to do good by recommending this wonderful remedy. Thanking you, I am

BUNNY WINS IN AUTO.

Rabbit Jumps Into Automobile to Escape Pursuing Hound Which Drops Dead.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

CALDWELL (N. J.) Nov. 27.—A rabbit rode in an automobile and a dog pursued it for several miles, until strange incidents sound like a tale from Munchausen, but they actually occurred near here yesterday.

When a hound saw the rabbit, the rabbit jumped on a stone wall and for a while ran parallel with the automobile driven by Charles Crampsey, a New York City man. The hound, which the animal leaped from the wall and into the tonneau of the car. The hound then jumped out and continued to pursue the automobile until it dropped dead, either from exhaustion or by the effects of gasoline fumes.

Crampsey, who owned the automobile, was not hurt.

PASTOR PROTESTS PICTURES.

Minister Stops Entertainment Because of a Magic Lantern View Shown of Women in Tights.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Calvary M. E. Church of which the Rev. C. O. Goodell, is pastor, ends itself with an unpleasant Thanksgiving episode on its hands. A picture entertainment was given last night, and when suddenly the pastor's voice was heard in the darkened edifice protesting against a picture of the burning of Rome, in which women were shown in tights.

The pastor, Mr. Goodell, said that the children in the audience to see.

After a moment of hesitation, the operator threw on the screen a high-art picture of a woman in tights, and another protest, and the show was declared off. Those who had paid 25 cents entrance fee, were disappointed when the entertainment was ended, and demanded their money back. Free admission was promised to the next exhibition, but the church authorities refused. As a last resort the police took a hand, ordering the dissatisfied ones to leave the church.

WANT BOUNTY REMOVED.

English Steel Manufacturers Kicking Because Provincial Plan Is Beating Them Out of Trade.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

STYDNEY (N. S.) Nov. 27.—Progress made by local iron and steel manufacturing interests, in connection with the proposed removal of the bounty on Great Britain among the British possessions in the south Pacific, has brought about a movement by the trade in England to have revoked the bounty paid by the home government to the provincial producers.

As the bounty is paid on each ton of steel mined in the province, it enables the Nova Scotia producers, it is alleged, to undersell the English.

Local steel plants are now operating on a twenty-four-hour schedule.

FLASHES FROM WIRES.

The La France Copper Company, London owner of which is F. Augustus Helms, and which operates a mine in the La France district, has filed its answer to the injunction suit brought by citizens of Walkerville as a residence city. The answer, which was filed yesterday, states that the La France Company, in the answer filed in Butte, Mont., yesterday, declared that the company had no interest in the mine, and that it asks a dismissal of the action. Decision was reserved.

The Courts of Errors and Appeals in Toronto yesterday affirmed the convictions of Archibald Herron and of Sabine Millie. Unless the Parliament intervenes, the company will be ordered to pay the costs of the electric chair. Herron murdered the Rev. Samuel B. Prickett of Montreal, and the company was convicted of murdering Alphonse Belloc in May last.

The body of Charles W. Darlow, a local farmer, was found yesterday in the ruins of his barn, near Prattsburg, N. Y. Three men seen at the scene of the crime, and one was arrested on suspicion. It is believed the old man was beaten and then set on fire, and the barn burned to conceal the crime.

The general assembly of the International Brotherhood of America, which broke over that port yesterday. Enormous waves, higher than any that had been seen for thirty years, swept over the city, and the destruction among the inhabitants of the town.

Daniel Quigley, a truckman, 49 years old, literally died of fright yesterday morning. Fortham (N. Y.) Taken to the institution after he had slightly injured his foot, he grew pale and his heart began to palpitate, and asked if his case was serious. He was assured that his injuries were not serious, and that he would be given surgical instruments, and the operating table, he became panic-stricken and expired in the arms of an orderly, a few minutes later.

New York now has a hotel exclusively for orthodox Jews. Such an institution has been organized by the Ladies may observe all the Mosaic disciplines has been opened at Seventy-second street and Lexington avenue. Several prominent rabbis of the city have inspected the kitchen of the hotel and declared it fit to carry out Jewish traditions and the observance. Kosher meat will be served in competition with the table set by the hotel restaurant, and a hotel in the city.

The British Society of Tokio entertained a luncheon party yesterday at Takahira Kato, the newly-appointed Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain. Mrs. Kato and their daughters, who were the only ladies of high dignities attended the function. Count Kato made a lengthy speech, in which he expressed his appreciation of the efforts of the enemies of Japan and Great Britain, the relations between the two countries were stronger than ever.

BIG SCANDAL
IN NEW HANDS.

ANOTHER MAGISTRATE NOW HAS STEINHEIL CASE.

Woman Held in French Capital for Slaying Husband and Stepmother Said to Be Mentally Unbalanced. Press Accuses Government of Smothering Truth About Murders.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
PARIS, Nov. 21.—The case of Mme. Steinheil, who was arrested in this city yesterday, after a day of sensational developments in the matter of the murder of her husband and her stepmother, Mme. Jarry, in this city last May, was today taken out of the hands of M. Leydet, the examining magistrate, who has been in charge up to the present, and turned over to Magistrate Andre.

Mme. Steinheil is under arrest on the charge of aiding and abetting in the murder of her stepmother. Expert physicians have declared that Mme. Steinheil is suffering from a kind of hysteria peculiar to a certain class of neurotics, which manifests itself in the invention of the wildest accusations.

There is in full blast today a campaign by the Nationalists and anti-Semites to prove that the authorities have had an interest in smothering the truth concerning these murders.

Count Garion, whose name has been mentioned in connection with Mme. Steinheil, and at whose house in Paris Mme. Steinheil stayed for a few weeks after the murder of her husband, declared today that she was an honest and respectable woman. The Count said, however, that he was convinced that Mme. Steinheil was no longer possessed of her mental faculties, and he characterized the story that she was present at the death of Felix Faure as a base calumny.

On the contrary, he declared, there was ample evidence to prove that she was at that time ill in her own home. George and Denys Cochon, Conservative members of the Chamber of Deputies, have announced their intention of interpellating the government on the attitude of the magistrature in the Steinheil case. This action is designed to bring the political side of the affair to light, and the members are coming more and more occupied.

Various new theories of the crime have been advanced since the arrest of Mme. Steinheil and tonight there were many reports in circulation of impending important arrests. Up to midnight, however, nobody has been taken into custody.

Magistrate Andre has begun a new and independent investigation of the whole case, starting with a lengthy examination of Henry Couffignal, who was arrested last Saturday, charged with the murders, but subsequently released, and all the evidence connected with the discovery of the crime, particularly the position of the body of Mme. Jarry when it was found and the manner in which it was bound to the bed.

DIVORCE LAWS SATISFACTORY.
Lawyers Find Little in Statutes of Illinois, Which Leads to Deceases, to Critics.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judges who hear divorce cases and lawyers who try them found little today to criticize in the Illinois laws regulating the granting of divorces, notwithstanding the fact that government statistics covering a period of forty years show that Illinois law is all other States in the number of legal separations granted.

Judge Charles M. Walker, who has accumulated many years of experience in nothing to object to in the Illinois law, but was inclined to place the blame on the jury system. He explained the relative infrequency of divorces in Illinois as being due to the fact that divorces were granted there only upon the one ground of infidelity.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who has studied the divorce problem from the point of view of the social philosopher, as well as from that of the lawyer, in a brief survey of the situation, found much that was hopeful. She said, "I can see no ground in the Illinois statutes that is dispensable," she said. "The three chief reasons assigned in the divorce bills in Illinois are, I believe, desertion, cruelty and drunkenness. None of these grievances are considered sufficient in New York State. I have in mind the career of a woman whose bed was burned under her and yet she had no recourse."

CUPID MUST WAIT.
NIPS ROMANCE
OF BLIND MAN.

Nephew Rushes to Court to Block a Wedding.

Effort to Keep Fortune from Going to Bride.

Honeymoon Tour of World
Delayed by Contest.

The wet blanket of "family interference" was thrown over an old blind man's quest romance yesterday in the Superior Court.

Fifty years ago, David Van Buren
Hallam would doubtless have seized the fair one by the lily-white hand and sloped, defying interference.

But she is in the land of the living and feeble and 70, so they will take now
the more commonplace way of hiring
a lawyer to play for them the part of gallant and to dash with the bride to the altar.

The wedding was to have taken place
Sunday and it was to have been followed by a wedding tour around the world, a quaint pilgrimage in which the eager old man was to have seen all the seats of the great and the mighty
through the eyes of his dear old bride.

At the demand of a very busy nephew, the courts yesterday called a halt, so the wedding will be postponed;
but perhaps when you are 70 and she is 50, the superstition of deferred
weddings no longer threatens lonely
bachelors.

Hallam is a rich old soldier and the lady who was to be his bride lives just around the corner—quite as if it were a Dickens romance.

During the war, he served with Co.
E, 10th Illinois Infantry, and from a wound received in action, became permanently blind. To him was granted the largest pension drawn by any veteran in Los Angeles—$100 a month.

MAKES FORTUNE HERE.
He came to this city twenty-six years ago when property was cheap
and got in just in time for the great boom. He and his first wife were very frugal with his pension money and got hold of real estate that rose enormously in value. His estate is now
worth in excess of $100,000.

Fifteen years ago, his wife died and
he was obliged to hire care-takers.
After the San Francisco disaster, how-
ever, he came to Los Angeles with his family,
refugees. It was decided that the Watkins family should move to the old man
at his home No. 114 West Pico street.

As usual, they quarreled. The old
man said the family locked him out
twice at night. The neighbors took sides and the household broke up in
a grand row.

Watkins, who is a candy maker, took
his family and moved to Bunker Hill
avenue. Hallam got a business man,
W. H. Jones, as companion and caretaker.

In their little daily walks about the
neighborhood, the two old men got acquainted with what was to Hallam a
pleasant voice, in the awful darkness,
also an agreeable hand on his arm.
To the care-taker, the voice and the
pleasant hand were the most precious
accompaniments of a little old maid, Miss Olia Hicks, who lived around the corner, at No. 127 South Olive street.

Finally that address on South Olive
street came to be the destination of
the daily walks and the two old men
exchanged many confidences with the
petite that came to Hallam out of the perpetual darkness.

QUANT PROPOSAL.
At last, the old blind man made a
quant proposal of marriage to the voice. It was quite businesslike, as elderly romances sometimes are.

He suggested that they marry and
go traveling. They had talked so often
of traveling, he had a curious blind
desire to "see" the world before he
died; through her eyes, he thought he
could satisfy a life's ambition.

It was agreed that he should deed
her all his property, with the provision
that he should retain a life interest therein.

These details being arranged, the old
man's plans and his romance began
to grow.

They would go all the way to Honolulu, he told her; but one day he went
over, groping the few feet from Pico
street around the corner, to say that
they would go clear around the world
together, as soon as they were married.

Under the usual urging of the bridegroom and the usual cynicism of the
up and down of the next Sunday.

Yesterday, in the midst of their preparations, the old man, who had been
asking for letters of guardianship of
his niece, was informed that the old man was incompetent. Watkins also
told the old fellow in feeble, but parental, and should not be allowed to marry, or to convey away his property.

Watkins asks to have the Los Angeles
Trust Company appointed guardian of the property, and for himself to be appointed guardian of the person of Hallam.

OLD LOVER'S RAGE.
The old lover got the news of the
law suit yesterday afternoon and raged
quite as romantic lovers should.
"That nephew of mine is a worthless
fellow," he said. "While I saved and
accumulated my money, he wasted
it."

(Lover-like sigh.) "Well, I suppose
we can't be married next Sunday as
we planned. I suppose we will have to wait. Says I will spend all my money on this trip, does he? Well, what
if I do. I won't, but what if I should?
What better use could I put it to?
I won't need it much longer—no more
longer—and I have no one to leave it
to. I have two brothers, one in Brownsville, Tex., and one in Oklahoma, but they are well and do not
need it. I have a sister in Oklahoma, but she is married and her husband can take care of her. This nephew of mine is trying to get the money
himself."

He was told that Watkins accuses
him of being so weak that he faints.
"Only in church when it is very hot,"
said the old man firmly.

PITIFUL.
HUNGER DRIVES
HER TO POLICE.

ELDERLY WOMAN WALKS MILES
IN QUEST OF HELP.

Small Monthly Remittances Fail to
Arrive and for Five Days She Goes Without Food, Finally Tramp-
ing Far to Get Advice, Though Too
Proud to Ask Other Aid.

After having gone five days without
food and walking three miles from her
home, Mrs. S. A. Scriminger, aged 64
years, at one time wealthy, collapsed
from exhaustion yesterday afternoon
in the Police Station. She had gone
there to seek advice in regard to her
small income, which had suddenly been
cut off. Too proud to ask for assistance
she watched and waited patiently for
the small carter to bring her a letter containing the check, until she was driven
out by hunger. She did not at first
reveal her condition to the officers but
asked what steps she should take to
get hold of real estate that rose enormously in value. His estate is now
worth in excess of $100,000.

Fifteen years ago, his wife died and

OLD LOVER'S RAGE.
The old lover got the news of the
law suit yesterday afternoon and raged
quite as romantic lovers should.
"That nephew of mine is a worthless
fellow," he said. "While I saved and
accumulated my money, he wasted
it."

(Lover-like sigh.) "Well, I suppose
we can't be married next Sunday as
we planned. I suppose we will have to wait. Says I will spend all my money on this trip, does he? Well, what
if I do. I won't, but what if I should?
What better use could I put it to?
I won't need it much longer—no more
longer—and I have no one to leave it
to. I have two brothers, one in Brownsville, Tex., and one in Oklahoma, but they are well and do not
need it. I have a sister in Oklahoma, but she is married and her husband can take care of her. This
nephew of mine is trying to get the money
himself."

He was told that Watkins accuses
him of being so weak that he faints.
"Only in church when it is very hot,"
said the old man firmly.

Yesterday, in the midst of their prepa-
rations, the old man, who had been
asking for letters of guardianship of
his niece, was informed that the old
man was incompetent. Watkins also
told the old fellow in feeble, but paren-
tal, and should not be allowed to marry, or to convey away his property.

HUNGER DRIVES

ELDERLY WOMAN WALKS MILES
IN QUEST OF HELP.

Small Monthly Remittances Fail to
Arrive and for Five Days She Goes Without Food, Finally Tramp-
ing Far to Get Advice, Though Too
Proud to Ask Other Aid.

After having gone five days without
food and walking three miles from her
home, Mrs. S. A. Scriminger, aged 64
years, at one time wealthy, collapsed
from exhaustion yesterday afternoon
in the Police Station. She had gone
there to seek advice in regard to her
small income, which had suddenly been
cut off. Too proud to ask for assistance
she watched and waited patiently for
the small carter to bring her a letter containing the check, until she was driven
out by hunger. She did not at first
reveal her condition to the officers but
asked what steps she should take to
get hold of real estate that rose enormously in value. His estate is now
worth in excess of $100,000.

Fifteen years ago, his wife died and
he was obliged to hire care-takers.
After the San Francisco disaster, how-
ever, he came to Los Angeles with his family,
refugees. It was decided that the Wat-
kins family should move to the old man
at his home No. 114 West Pico street.

As usual, they quarreled. The old
man said the family locked him out
twice at night. The neighbors took
a grand row.

Watkins, who is a candy maker, took
his family and moved to Bunker Hill
avenue. Hallam got a business man,
W. H. Jones, as companion and care-
taker.

In their little daily walks about the
neighborhood, the two old men got acquainted with what was to Hallam a
pleasant voice, in the awful darkness,
also an agreeable hand on his arm.
To the care-taker, the voice and the
pleasant hand were the most precious
accompaniments of a little old maid, Miss
Olia Hicks, who lived around the corner, at No. 127 South Olive street.

Finally that address on South Olive
street came to be the destination of
the daily walks and the two old men
exchanged many confidences with the
petite that came to Hallam out of the
perpetual darkness.

QUANT PROPOSAL.
At last, the old blind man made a
quant proposal of marriage to the
voice. It was quite businesslike, as
elderly romances sometimes are.

He suggested that they marry and
go traveling. They had talked so often
of traveling, he had a curious blind
desire to "see" the world before he
died; through her eyes, he thought he
could satisfy a life's ambition.

It was agreed that he should deed
her all his property, with the provision
that he should retain a life interest therein.

These details being arranged, the old
man's plans and his romance began
to grow.

They would go all the way to Honolulu, he told her; but one day he went
over, groping the few feet from Pico
street around the corner, to say that
they would go clear around the world
together, as soon as they were married.

Under the usual urging of the bride-
groom and the usual cynicism of the
up and down of the next Sunday.

Yesterday, in the midst of their prepa-
rations, the old man, who had been
asking for letters of guardianship of
his niece, was informed that the old

VENICE'S NEW CAMPANILE NEARING COMPLETION.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

VENICE, Nov. 22.—Venetians are now experiencing the joy of seeing an old friend with unchanged face, while at the same time knowing that it has taken a new lease of life. The new campanile is not merely a copy of the old, it is the old, inasmuch as in the essential points the ancient materials have been made use of.

The campanile fell on the morning of July 14, 1902, throwing the city into a panic, and then into paroxysms of grief.

Venice's Famous Campanile, which, built to a large extent of the materials of the old one which fell six years ago, is now nearing completion.

Due to the loss of their treasure, and the disfigurement of their pride, the Piazza di San Marco. It was decided, almost at once, to rebuild, and the money, about $200,000, was gathered without difficulty, so that now, six years later, it is almost completed, and these Venetians who have not returned to their city during that time, are now finding it so easy to persuade themselves that the tower had never fallen.

Foreigners have been surprised at the time it has taken to rebuild, as they have not known, or have not considered, the extraordinary precautions taken, that everything should be without a flaw. The work has been intensely interesting from the beginning. It was obvious when the old foundations were uncovered that they had been quite inadequate for the enormous weight they were required to hold. However, examination proved that they were quite unharmed; indeed, some of the piles showed signs of petrification, while there was no trace of decay. It was decided to use them, and keep to the original method of piles, platforms, champed stones, and free stones arranged stepwise to the level of the piazza. A ditch, sixteen feet deep, and twelve wide, was dug all round the old foundations and carefully braced. Into this 3078 new arches, fresh cut and full of resin, thirteen feet long and eight and a half in diameter, were driven. They were one by one battered down, until, using tremendous force, they were found to yield a hair's breadth. The foundations, it is estimated, will weigh only 30,000 tons.

The driving was done by hand, rope and pulley and weight, eleven ropes and eleven hands to each rope. Then came the knitting of a new platform to the old, on the top of which were placed blocks of Istrian stone, nine feet nine inches by four feet seven inches, cemented together. Thus, the foundations were completed.

The outline of the tower is an exact reproduction of the original, while inside it has been so changed as to reduce the weight from 40,000 tons to exactly one-half. The bricks are all specially hand-made, according to ancient measurements—old ones found intact in the debris after the fall, serving as models—and baked with a wood fire, which makes them stronger. Each of the 1,200,000 bricks required is tested before used and, if the slightest flaw is found, is rejected. All the stone used comes from Istria, while the Loggia di San Sordano, at the foot, is almost ready to be put in place. The belfry in a few weeks will be surmounted by the golden angel, known to all lovers of Venice, which is thirty feet high, and composed of gilded copper with the extremities in bronze, and which, when the tower is completed, will set its powerful wings and fly to earth, landing so gently as to be but slightly damaged.

The bells fared worse. The largest and most modern, known as the Maradona, was not even cracked, but the others, which were very ancient, were ruined and have been recast. The Venetians will have the same harmony as before, only a few days before the catastrophe. Abbe Perosi, composing his Te Deum to be given in the cathedral, just across the way, wrote down the harmony in musical notes, now available.

Lost but not least, comes the much-discussed Loggia di San Sordano. It, of course, suffered much through the collapse, it being thought at first that it was a hopeless ruin; but patience and deft fingers have worked miracles, and much of it has been reconstructed. What before was one piece is now a mosaic of thousands of irregular fragments. This is particularly wonderful in the case of a terra cotta Madonna and Child, thousands of pieces being collected from the ruins and pieced together like a Chinese puzzle.

Thus, next spring Venice will have her completed tower, which will stand to future generations of the greatness of the twentieth century engineers.

FOR BEREAVED MOTHER.

Additional Contributions Received for the Relief of Parent of Young Girl Killed by Train.

In addition to $21 already reported, the sums in The Times yesterday, $1 for Mrs. F. F. Engberg of No. 2488 Lander street, whose daughter, Rosa, was killed Saturday night or Sunday morning by a Southern Pacific train near Alhambra. Yesterday's contributions were as follows: Hazel Campbell, $1; Mrs. J. C. $1; Mrs. Lillie L. Webb, $1; and Mrs. H. H. B. H. This money will be forwarded promptly to Mrs. Engberg.

The funeral of Rosa Engberg was held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of the Alhambra Funeral and Undertaking Company in Alhambra, the services being conducted by Rev. E. J. Clark, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Los Angeles. Mrs. Lee said. Interment was in San Gabriel Cemetery, instead of in the cemetery field, as would have been the case had not the sad plight of the bereaved mother appealed with such force to tender-hearted strangers.

At the funeral were the mother, her only other daughter, and her son, who reached here yesterday from Santa Paula. Many flowers, sent by sympathizers, covered the casket.

TO ENTERTAIN OFFICERS.

Elaborate Programs Arranged to Honor Arrival of French Cruiser in Los Angeles.

Elaborate preparations are being made to entertain the officers of the French cruiser, Catana, which is expected to anchor off San Pedro today. There will be a banquet at Venice and the local Chamber of Commerce will give a reception on a date not yet fixed. President George H. Stewart and Secretary Frank Higgins are in charge of arrangements. Gen. Frank C. Prescott, honorary vice-president of the French Alliance, and M. Durand, French consular agent, will assist in the reception. The French Alliance will give another reception to the visitors at the beautiful Santa Monica home of Mrs. John P. Jones, president of the society. J. Auelair, secretary of the alliance, and assistant to the consular agent of France, is arranging a programme of entertainment for his countrymen. The local French colony is also making plans to welcome the officers, and a large company, headed by L. Sentous, will leave for San Pedro on the Pacific Electric this morning at 9:30. The man-of-war was due yesterday, but was delayed by the storm at sea.

CHARTER VOTE.

unanimously killed. Healy said he would vote for an amendment to abolish city service entirely, but not to discriminate.

Another amendment on salaries provided for each member of the Water Board, Civil Service Commission, Library Directors, Board of Education and Board of Health for each regular meeting attended, providing that the allowance should not exceed $25 in any month.

AS TO THE LIBRARY. The library amendment that the Council threatened to adopt, to take control of the funds away from the direction, came from the City Attorney in mild form. It provided that the levy for library purposes should not be less than 4 cents on each $100 of taxable property, but that the Council should reserve out of the proceeds each year an amount sufficient to pay interest and create a sinking fund on any bonded indebtedness for library purposes. The amendment also provided that the money collected for fines, amounting now to $3000 annually, should become a part of the library fund.

The limit of appropriations for public demonstrations was increased from $2000 to $3000.

Annual reports of the departments are to be made at the second meeting in July of each year, instead of December 15, and are to be for the city's fiscal year, which ends June 30. The reports now are for the year ending November 30, which corresponds with no other city annual terminal.

Another amendment strikes out an invalid provision, as to public dispensaries, superseded by state law, and the requirement that assessment rolls be read in full. Another requires the County Clerk to furnish supplemental registers for the use of the City Clerk at city elections.

THIS "SLIPPED IN." Hewitt then called Clappitt's attention to the remaining amendments, which he said he had "slipped in." The first authorized the City Engineer to make a survey of all existing streets in the city, and those proposed for opening and widening, and that the survey be adopted as the intention of the Council, after the property owners affected have had a hearing. If the city begins condemnation proceedings within three years, no damages are to be awarded for improvements begun after the adoption of the survey.

Mr. Hewitt explained that it has been the practice of people to build on land that would be the necessary continuation of a street, and thus either prevent the extension or increase the cost. The amendment was adopted.

He also proposed, at the request of Herbert Goodie, James A. Anderson and others, an amendment forbidding the passage of any ordinance on the day of its introduction, except emergency ordinances, street improvements and those overriding vetoes of the Mayor, and that all ordinances must be read in full before passage; also that the Mayor be permitted to veto items of appropriation ordinances.

Healy declared Anderson, when president of the Board of Public Works, was the chief offender in asking rapid fire legislation, and his motion to file the amendment prevailed, because the rules of the Council now are of the same effect.

An amendment providing for the consolidation of not more than ten subjects in any special election was adopted, but one to make appointments by the Mayor effective in fifteen days by publication, if the Council did not act, failed. Another to authorize the Board of Public Works to appoint an inspector of streets also failed.

DISAPPEARING.

STRANGE CASE OF WILD MAN.

WANDERS IN BRUSH FOR DAYS, THEN TRIES TO DIE.

Hunters Discover Insanely Victim, Who Had Burned His Clothes, Slowly Bleeding to Death from Self-Inflicted Wounds, and Rescue Him in Spite of Himself.

After wandering for days in the mountains above Lancaster, suffering from mental aberration, Jacob Wirtz, aged 65 years, tore his clothes into strips yesterday afternoon, buried them and then attempted suicide by opening the arteries in his arms and legs. When he was discovered by hunters, lying naked beside the smoldering fire and slowly bleeding to death, he attempted to hide in the hills.

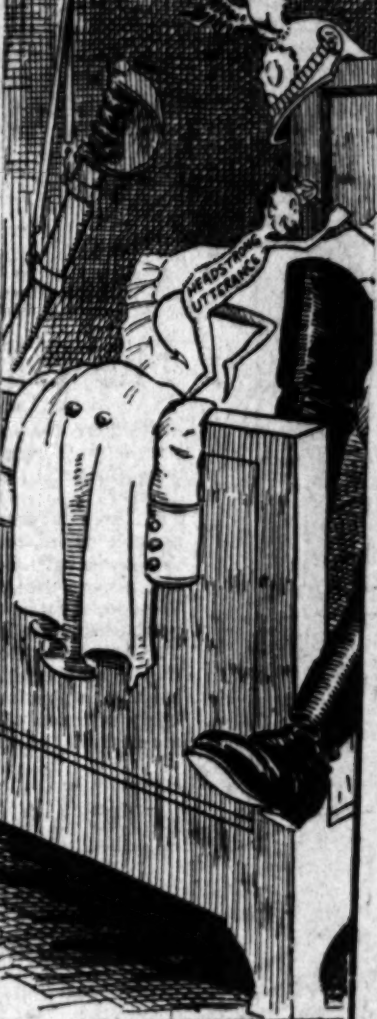

Before he was captured he again attempted to kill himself, by stabbing himself in the breast. The blade passed between the fourth and fifth ribs on the left side and punctured the lung. He was brought to the County Hospital about 10 o'clock last night. Wirtz is in a critical condition from hunger and loss of blood, but it is believed that he will recover.

Although Wirtz opened four wounds in his arms and legs, he did not sever a large artery, which would have caused his death. He bled a great deal, for when the blood congealed he opened the wounds afresh. It was evident that he had been lying, when he was found, for several hours. He refused to say what his motive was, but it is believed that his mind was affected on account of his falling ill.

Wirtz worked on a ranch near Lancaster until a short time ago, when his health gave out. He went away a few weeks, but was seen near the ranch about a week ago. It is believed that he has been wandering about since that time.

It was reported to Deputy Sheriff Fred Weddington of Lancaster about three days ago that there was an insane man running about naked in the hills.

As soon as possible Weddington was notified of the finding of Wirtz and the man was carried to the County Hospital. A physician was summoned, who checked the flow of blood and gave him a dressing. He was

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE.

Frank H. Leonard, C.S.B., of Brooklyn, N. Y., will lecture on Christian Science at Shrine Auditorium Sunday at 3 o'clock p.m. Mr. Leonard was born of Puritan ancestry and was a student at the Boston Latin School until ill-health made it imperative that study be stopped. He was healed in Christian Science in 1888. He maintained his health, became interested in that religion in 1897, and studied at the Massachusetts Metaphysical College in Boston, Mass., in 1900. He was a member of the Board of Missions for a year, and was appointed on the Board of Lecturers in 1900. This lecture is given under the auspices of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, of Los Angeles, and is free to the public.

MAGNOLIA TREES ARE SET IN LARGE NUMBER.
Said the Four Hundred Fat Farmers to Los Angeles and Will Plant as Many More for the Christmas Market—Find Birds Are Good for Alfalfa Fields.
The Imperial Valley, Nov. 27.—Imperial Valley is in the midst of a great tree planting season. Thousands of magnolia trees have been set in this fall, while there is a continuous planting throughout the winter and an unusually heavy planting for trees next spring.
In view of this condition, much interest is manifested here in the announcement of George F. Hall of San Diego that he has attained success in growing the magnolia tree from cuttings. A similar condition is found in the Imperial Valley. It means a far more extensive tree planting than has been planned in this valley. Mr. Hall says his experimental work in the Imperial Valley has been successful. He has discovered by trial and error that the magnolia tree can be grown readily if watered, but you must have irrigation to get them rooted. He has tried them in large and small quantities, but the tree will not grow unless the soil is kept moist. He has found that they grow as well as willows from cuttings. He believes that the tree will be a great success in the Imperial Valley. He has many who fall in raising seedlings.

SHRETT GOOD FOR ALFALFA.
The Shrett Good for Alfalfa, probably the most famous turkey raiser in the Imperial Valley, shipped 400 fat turkeys to Los Angeles yesterday. The turkeys were raised on alfalfa and were in excellent condition. Mr. Shrett is a well-known turkey raiser in the Imperial Valley. He has many who fall in raising seedlings.

BOOM BUILDING IS DESTROYED.

RELIC ERASED.
OLD BABCOCK CLUBHOUSE GOES UP IN SMOKE.
Two inmates of Landmark of San Diego County Scenic Out of Burning Structure Just in Time. Blame Supposed to Be Work of Tramps.
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 27.—The old Babcock Clubhouse at Pacific Beach, one of the landmarks of San Diego county and a relic of boom days, was burned to the ground last night in a mysterious blaze. Mr. and Mrs. H. Babcock were awakened by the smell of smoke and just had time to escape with a few personal effects. Nothing else was saved. The origin of the blaze is unknown, but is supposed to be the work of tramps. The structure was a work of art, built in 1907 and originally cost a large amount of money. It was the clubhouse of the old original racing association of early days, and for a time was headquarters for most of the horsemen and sporting men of the southern part of the state. The grandstand, judge's stand, and mile track are also demolished, and hereafter the Pacific Beach race track will be only a tradition.

IDENTITIES TRAIL VICTIM.

An inquest will be held this morning over the remains of James Murphy, whose body was found Wednesday night after having been run over by a Santa Fe switch engine at the foot of Eighth street. The body was identified yesterday by R. M. Place, a neighbor of Murphy, who lived alone in a shack on the water front. The dead man only recently came to San Diego from Seattle.

TIRES OF CITY LIFE.

Alfred Dickenson, the youth who disappeared from his home in this city last August, has been located by his mother on a ranch at Chula Vista. Young Dickenson, who went away without a word of explanation, seemed surprised when told that his mother was anxious about him. He declared he simply got tired of living in the city.

DREAMS OF LOVELY LOVE GIRL ARE SHATTERED.
Her Husband Masqueraded as an Army Lieutenant and Deserted Her After Brief Honeymoon—Allen Hold-up Man Goes to Prison Singing Swiss Songs.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alleging her husband misrepresented himself as a lieutenant in the United States regular army, Mrs. Ethel Neville Love Hartnett today brought suit for annulment of her marriage to Thomas Alexander Hartnett. The couple were married June 26 last, after a brief courtship. Hartnett represented himself as a dashing military officer, and Mrs. Love Hartnett was won by his smooth talk. The couple were married in a small ceremony at the home of Mrs. Love Hartnett's parents. The bride was a lovely girl, and the groom was a dashing young man. When you see the Fels-Naptha red and green wrapper at your grocer's, don't pass it along with the thought that it simply contains a cake of laundry soap, but remember it also contains a better and easier way of washing—a way that makes the clothes cleaner and whiter and saves them.

Buy it—and try it. When you take the wrapper off, don't throw it away. Pin it up over the tub, inside out, and wash by the printed directions on the back. These directions are so simple, that, if it is your first experience with Fels-Naptha soap, you will hardly believe that a washing can be so easily done.

But it can be—done by more than a million women every week—and will be done by you, if you stick to the easy directions. Let us emphasize just one part of the directions: Use lukewarm or cold water, never hot.

Accept only the soap in the red and green wrapper.

There is only one Fels-Naptha soap. Be sure you get the genuine.

WIN BRIDES AT THANKSGIVING.
TWO WEDDINGS MARK HOLIDAY AT RIVERSIDE.
One is Chrysanthemum Affair While Other is Quiet, Simple Home Event. Sunshine Society Gives Dance by Electric Light—Two Shakes Burn in Early Morning Fire.
RIVERSIDE, Nov. 27.—Thanksgiving Day was chosen as the wedding day of Miss Ella May King and Frank Wall, whose marriage took place at noon yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. King at No. 243 Colton avenue. Rev. J. L. Field, corner pastor of the United Brethren church of this city, was the officiating clergyman. The maid of honor was Miss Myrtle Wall, sister of the groom, and the best man was Victor Roscher. The bride wore a primrose gown of white batiste and carried orange blossoms. Miss Edith Shatto played the wedding music. It was a chrysanthemum wedding, myriads of these flowers being used in the decoration of the home.

MR. OPP
Beginning a Serial Novel by the Author of "MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH"

LIVE BUNCH O'YOUNG'UNS.

Thousands of Them Respond to Dr. Torrey.

Jacoby Will Tell His Life
Story After Parade.

Three Classified Meetings
for Sunday.

Thousands of children formed an
unique audience in the Torrey Tabernacle yesterday afternoon. They were
well-behaved and responsive, the latter characteristic standing out promi-nently, though not to the sacrifice
of good conduct.

It had been announced every day for
ten days, with much prominence, that
the meeting would be for children only,
so others being admitted unless accompanied by children. In spite of this,
many grown people appeared at the
doors and asked admittance, but being
unaccompanied by children, they were turned away. It was amusing to observe some of them eyeing bunches of
youngsters, as the latter walked in unquestioned, and evidently wishing
that they had some sort of accompaniment. One of the kids, Teachers came
surrounded by swarms of boys and girls;
mothers with their pair of hopefuls, one
on each hand; a man in a wheeled
chair, with a string of them hanging
onto his chair like the tail to a kite;
and the little grandchild apparently
did not have to beg for an escort. The
aged regulars were all there.

The children sang finely under the leadership of Dr. Palmer, who is an expert at drawing them out. He had
them singing in sections, in a body,
and as individuals, and it was here
that the responsiveness of the youngsters stood out.

BEFORE THEIR MIND.

"Did they do as well as you did?"
he asked one section.
The response shook the roof. "No,"
they yelled, as with one voice.
Then he had some little girls stand
up and sing, and again he tested the
magnanimity of the whole crowd.

"I wish we could all sing as sweetly
as that, don't you?" he asked.
To the winds with gallantry. The
audience rattled with another long-
drawn-out "No," and the leader surrendered.

It was a rare treat to hear the 3000
or 4000 childish voices sing familiar
songs, fresh as the morning
dew, and they were all delighted with life. Annie Row's tender singing of
"Come Unto Me."

"I do something to shock you
grown-ups this afternoon," said Dr.
Torrey, "just shut your eyes; I'm a boy today. I want to tell you what a child can do. Some people think they can do nothing but play, talk, laugh
and make a noise. You needn't tell
your fathers and mothers, boys and
girls, but I think the children are more
important than the grown-up."

Dr. Torrey, in the talk that followed,
related many instances where the conversion of whole families, and when he
gave the invitation of those who would
accept Christ to come forward and
take seats in the choir gallery, which
had been kept vacant for the purpose,
perhaps 300 of them, of all ages, flocked
forward.

Dr. Torrey read and illuminated the story of the Crucifixion, and then had
the audience repeat after him, many
times, the following:

"He was wounded for my transgres-
sions. He was bruised for my iniquities,
the chastisement of my peace was upon
Him and with His stripes I am healed."

WHAT LITTLE GIRLS DID.
He then read the story of Naaman
and his healing from the leprosy by
dipping seven times in the River Jordan, as told in II Kings, v. 1-3. This was designed to bring out, not so much
the fact of the healing of Naaman, as
the part taken in it by the little lar-
dine maid in his household, who told
him he could be healed of the leprosy
by the prophet Elisha in Samaria.

"Who did most for Naaman?" Dr.
Torrey suddenly asked, and a thousand
childish voices quickly answered:
"The little girl."

The evangelist pressed the point
gained, and said that a child can be
truly converted and live a beautiful
Christian life, and can pray just as well as a gray-haired man.

He then gave a graphic picture of
the clearing of the dangerous rocks
from Hellgate, in New York Harbor,
which event excited so much interest
throughout the world, some years ago.

He showed how everything had been prepared, the tugs, the explosives put
in place, an electric wire extended to a business block in the city,
and then how the little daughter of
the engineer touched the button that
fired the great blast, and forever removed the obstructions.

"Who blew up the rocks?" he asked.
"A little girl," came the response.
"Yes," said Dr. Torrey, "a little girl
touched the button that as her finger
may reach up and touch the arm of Jesus."

The simplicity of the language of the
great evangelist, as well as his sincere
manner and easily understood illustrations, enlisted the closest attention
of the children, and they hung upon
upon every word and action. It is a rare gift that enables Dr. Torrey to give the attention of gray-haired
patriarchs at one meeting, and with
equal facility command the attention
of thousands of restless children at the next.

Last night he addressed an audience
that filled the tabernacle, and brought
to a close the third week of the campaign.

A MIDNIGHT MEETING.
For the special purpose of hearing
the remarkable story of W. S. Jacoby,
the first and only Saturday-night
meeting of the campaign will be held in the tabernacle tonight. Mr. Jacoby
has been an earnest Christian and assistant with Dr. Torrey for seventeen
years, but prior to that time he was
a gambler and drunkard, and when he
was advertised for a midnight meeting in Omaha, a few years ago, the
newspapers published his picture along
with those of a gang of crooks with
whom he was used to associate, at the
time he was ordered to leave the city.

In preparation for the meeting in the
tabernacle tonight, a half-dozen open-
air meetings will be held. At 10:30
o'clock, at Fifth and Central, Second
and Main, First and Los Angeles, 10:45
o'clock, at Aliso and Alameda, and on
east side of Plaza, 11 o'clock, at No.
419 North Main street. The following
organizations will take part in these
meetings: City Rescue Mission, New Testament Church, Volunteers of America, Salvation Army, Union Res-
cue Mission, Young Men's Christian Association, Peniel Mission, First
Methodist Church, Church of the Nazarene.

While these meetings are in progress
an effort will be made to gather 1000
men and women at the tabernacle to
form a parade, which will start on
the church. The 10:45 o'clock, headed by

unquestioned, and evidently wishing
that they had some sort of accompaniment. One of the kids, Teachers came
surrounded by swarms of boys and girls;
mothers with their pair of hopefuls, one
on each hand; a man in a wheeled
chair, with a string of them hanging
onto his chair like the tail to a kite;
and the little grandchild apparently
did not have to beg for an escort. The
aged regulars were all there.

The children sang finely under the leadership of Dr. Palmer, who is an expert at drawing them out. He had
them singing in sections, in a body,
and as individuals, and it was here
that the responsiveness of the young-
sters stood out.

"Did they do as well as you did?"
he asked one section.
The response shook the roof. "No,"
they yelled, as with one voice.
Then he had some little girls stand
up and sing, and again he tested the
magnanimity of the whole crowd.

"I wish we could all sing as sweetly
as that, don't you?" he asked.
To the winds with gallantry. The
audience rattled with another long-
drawn-out "No," and the leader sur-
rendered.

It was a rare treat to hear the 3000
or 4000 childish voices sing familiar
songs, fresh as the morning
dew, and they were all delighted with
life. Annie Row's tender singing of
"Come Unto Me."

"I do something to shock you
grown-ups this afternoon," said Dr.
Torrey, "just shut your eyes; I'm a
boy today. I want to tell you what a child can do. Some people think they
can do nothing but play, talk, laugh
and make a noise. You needn't tell
your fathers and mothers, boys and
girls, but I think the children are more
important than the grown-up."

Dr. Torrey, in the talk that followed,
related many instances where the con-
version of whole families, and when he
gave the invitation of those who would
accept Christ to come forward and
take seats in the choir gallery, which
had been kept vacant for the purpose,
perhaps 300 of them, of all ages, flocked
forward.

Dr. Torrey read and illuminated the story of the Crucifixion, and then had
the audience repeat after him, many
times, the following:

"He was wounded for my transgres-
sions. He was bruised for my iniquities,
the chastisement of my peace was upon
Him and with His stripes I am healed."

WHAT LITTLE GIRLS DID.
He then read the story of Naaman
and his healing from the leprosy by
dipping seven times in the River Jordan, as told in II Kings, v. 1-3. This
was designed to bring out, not so much
the fact of the healing of Naaman, as
the part taken in it by the little lar-
dine maid in his household, who told
him he could be healed of the leprosy
by the prophet Elisha in Samaria.

"Who did most for Naaman?" Dr.
Torrey suddenly asked, and a thousand
childish voices quickly answered:
"The little girl."

The evangelist pressed the point
gained, and said that a child can be
truly converted and live a beautiful
Christian life, and can pray just as
well as a gray-haired man.

He then gave a graphic picture of
the clearing of the dangerous rocks
from Hellgate, in New York Harbor,
which event excited so much interest
throughout the world, some years ago.

He showed how everything had been
prepared, the tugs, the explosives put
in place, an electric wire ex-
tended to a business block in the city,
and then how the little daughter of
the engineer touched the button that
fired the great blast, and forever re-
moved the obstructions.

"Who blew up the rocks?" he asked.
"A little girl," came the response.
"Yes," said Dr. Torrey, "a little girl
touched the button that as her finger
may reach up and touch the arm of Jesus."

The simplicity of the language of the
great evangelist, as well as his sincere
manner and easily understood illus-
trations, enlisted the closest attention
of the children, and they hung upon
upon every word and action. It is a rare gift that enables Dr. Torrey to
give the attention of gray-haired
patriarchs at one meeting, and with
equal facility command the attention
of thousands of restless children at the
next.

Last night he addressed an audience
that filled the tabernacle, and brought
to a close the third week of the campaign.

A MIDNIGHT MEETING.
For the special purpose of hearing
the remarkable story of W. S. Jacoby,
the first and only Saturday-night
meeting of the campaign will be held
in the tabernacle tonight. Mr. Jacoby
has been an earnest Christian and assistant with Dr. Torrey for seventeen
years, but prior to that time he was
a gambler and drunkard, and when he
was advertised for a midnight meeting in Omaha, a few years ago, the
newspapers published his picture along
with those of a gang of crooks with
whom he was used to associate, at the
time he was ordered to leave the city.

In preparation for the meeting in the
tabernacle tonight, a half-dozen open-
air meetings will be held. At 10:30
o'clock, at Fifth and Central, Second
and Main, First and Los Angeles, 10:45
o'clock, at Aliso and Alameda, and on
east side of Plaza, 11 o'clock, at No.
419 North Main street. The following
organizations will take part in these
meetings: City Rescue Mission, New Testament Church, Volunteers of America, Salvation Army, Union Res-
cue Mission, Young Men's Christian Association, Peniel Mission, First
Methodist Church, Church of the Naz-
arene.

While these meetings are in progress
an effort will be made to gather 1000
men and women at the tabernacle to
form a parade, which will start on
the church. The 10:45 o'clock, headed by two brass bands. The line of march

Three Classified Meetings
for Sunday.

Thousands of children formed an
unique audience in the Torrey Tabernacle yesterday afternoon. They were
well-behaved and responsive, the latter characteristic standing out promi-nently, though not to the sacrifice
of good conduct.

It had been announced every day for
ten days, with much prominence, that
the meeting would be for children only,
so others being admitted unless accompanied by children. In spite of this,
many grown people appeared at the
doors and asked admittance, but being
unaccompanied by children, they were
turned away. It was amusing to observe some of them eyeing bunches of
youngsters, as the latter walked in
unquestioned, and evidently wishing
that they had some sort of accompaniment. One of the kids, Teachers came
surrounded by swarms of boys and girls;
